

THE NOSS-MD NEWS

•February 2021•

We are on Twitter!

Follow us @NossMaryland
for teaching tips, resources,
news, and more!

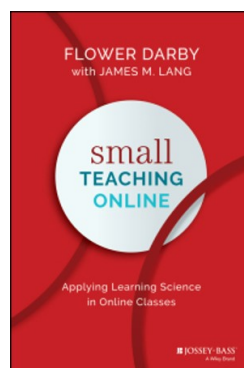

Teaching Tip

Start your classes with asking folks about any victories or accomplishments. When we all feel disconnected from our students and peers, it's always good to hear good news from students. If students don't share, then try to share anything good that happened to you.

What to Read?

There are so many great resources on teaching online! Here's one we recommend:

An online update to James Lang's Small Teaching, this book is a great resource for tackling remote learning. Flower Darby builds on Lang's work and shares her expertise of teaching online and keeping students engaged throughout. Essential reading for this year!

SAVE THE DATE!

Spring 2021 Workshop - A Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow

March 5, 2-3pm, Zoom

NOSS Conference—Innovations: Keeping Our Students Close From a Distance

Friday, April 23, 10am , Online

NOSS

MARYLAND CHAPTER

NOSS

MARYLAND
CHAPTER

Presents:

A Pot of Gold at the end of the Rainbow:

What colleges and institutions have introduced to increase student success?

Join NOSSMD for a free virtual workshop to explore what schools are doing to increase
student success.

Friday, March 5th ♦ 2 – 3 pm

www.thenossmd.org

NOSS

MARYLAND CHAPTER

PRESENTS:

INNOVATIONS: KEEPING OUR STUDENTS CLOSE FROM A DISTANCE

FRIDAY APRIL 23RD 2021

10 AM EST

Virtual Conference

Keynote Speaker

Dr. Emily Suh is an assistant professor in the Graduate Programs of Developmental Education at Texas State University. Emily teaches Developmental Reading as well as doctoral courses in Developmental Education. She has published in journals such as the International Journal of Multilingualism, the Basic Writing eJournal and Teaching English in the Two-year College.